EV Enthusiast of the Month

"I've had my electric vehicle for six months and I absolutely love it. It's stylish and comfortable--and quiet. I wasn't ready for a 100% electric car, so I found a hybrid. I can plug it into a regular outlet at home and usually get about 27 miles on a charge, which is enough to get to work and back. Most days, I don't use gas. But it's there if I can't find a charging station or if I'm on a road trip. I can go 500 miles on a tank of gas. What I love most, though, is how my car drives in electric mode. It's zippy. I can smoke anyone."
